Announcement

IN issuing this new catalogue for the Spring of 1926 I take great pleasure in thanking my many friends for their generous patronage in the past and I hope to merit a continuance of their patronage.

I am always glad to welcome visitors to my gardens who are interested in hardy plants and flowers. My gardens are located on the improved Ridge Road, 8 miles from Rochester, one mile west of Webster Village on main highway. Rochester and Sodus Bay car stop 34 is directly in front of the place.

GUARANTEE—If I hope to retain trade, I can send only such stock as is true to name, first-class quality and in good condition when it leaves my place. Since I have no control over stock after it leaves my place, I cannot assume responsibility for failures due to improper planting or neglect after the plants have left my hands. I guarantee safe arrival of all stock sent by express. I also guarantee all stock true to name, and in a healthy growing condition when it leaves my hands. Any stock which proves otherwise will be gladly replaced or the price paid therefor refunded. I never substitute inferior varieties for those ordered, but should a variety ordered be sold out, I will fill the order with a similar or better variety, correctly labeled, unless instructions to the contrary are given in the order.

The prices quoted in this list are as low as is consistent with the quality of stock we send out. On account of the extreme shortage of some varieties it is very important to order early. Our stock of some of the choicest varieties is limited and it is often impossible to secure them late in the season.

When ordering, please write your name, postoffice, county and state plainly and give your nearest express office address, if it is different from your postoffice address.

Cut Flowers—During the blooming season we can generally supply cut flowers of Iris, Peonies, Gladioli, Dahlias and other hardy plants.

Kindly send me the names of your flower loving friends. I shall be glad to send them copies of my catalogue and will repay you by including extras with your order.

Make all remittances payable to

DAHLIAS

CULTURE—The dahlia will grow in any good garden soil. A sandy or gravelly soil which need not be very rich suits them best. It should be worked deep and well prepared. Large quantities of manure should be avoided as it tends to produce a heavy growth of foliage at the expense of bloom. The roots should be planted 2½ feet apart, the tubers should be laid down flat and covered with four to six inches of soil. They may be planted as soon as frost is over, but in our climate, we have found the last half of the month of June, the best time in which to plant them out. During the last of August when the buds appear, an application of a tablespoonful of nitrate of soda spread about the base of the plant will be found beneficial in developing the blooms.

After the plants have been frozen in the Fall, dig carefully and store the roots in a dry, cool cellar for Winter. In the Spring, the roots should be divided, preferably to one eye, before planting.

We send out divided field grown roots only. These are much more satisfactory than the weak, tender, green plants sometimes offered. If stored in a cool place, not too dry, until planted out every one will grow. They are stored under the best possible conditions which preserves them in a healthy, plump condition until planting time. All stunted plants are rogued from the field to insure healthy stock.

CLASSIFICATION OF DAHLIAS

CACTUS DAHLIAS—These are of recent introduction and are becoming very popular. In form they somewhat resemble the Chrysanthemum, the petals are long, narrow, incurved and sometimes twisted, giving them a very graceful appearance. (C)

DECORATIVE DAHLIAS are the largest flowering of any type. They have long, broad, flat petals. (D)

SHOW DAHLIAS are the old-fashioned large, round compact and quilled flowered type. (S)

PEONY FLOWERED DAHLIAS are the newest type, and somewhat resemble the peony in form. The flowers are generally semi double, exposing golden yellow disc in the center. They are very beautiful and free-flowering. (P)

POMPON DAHLIAS are identical in form with show Dahlias, but are small. (POM.)

Dahlias are sent by parcel post prepaid. Write for prices on large quantities.

GLADIOLI

Gladioli are of very easy culture. The bulbs may be planted as early as the ground can be worked and for a succession of bloom every two weeks up to July. The ground should be dug deeply and the bulbs planted 4 to 6 inches apart in the rows and 5 or 6 inches deep. A rich sandy loam soil in full sun suits them best, although they will thrive in any good garden soil.

One bulb of a variety at 1-10th the list price per dozen, prepaid. Write for prices on larger quantity.

PEONIES

CULTURE—Peonies should be planted from the beginning of September until the ground freezes. We begin digging early in September and can ship any time until the ground freezes. They prefer a heavy loam soil although any good garden soil will give good results. It should be well drained and away from the shade of trees or buildings. The soil should be worked deep. Manure should either be incorporated in the soil some time before the roots are planted or used as a mulch during the winter and worked into the soil in the spring. It should not be allowed to come in contact with the roots at any time. The roots should be planted with the eyes two or three inches below the surface of the soil. They are hardy and free from insect attacks. Early planting is to be recommended as it gives the plant a chance to get established before the ground freezes. Orders may be booked at any time for Fall delivery. As the stock of some of the new and rare varieties is limited, early orders are advisable.

So far as possible we send strong one-year old plants; when this is impossible, we send divisions with three to five strong eyes which generally bloom the first year. Peonies do not come to their best until the third or fourth year and some varieties do not bloom until the second or third year after planting. We grow our own roots and guarantee them true to name.

HARDY PHLOX

For brilliant masses of color in the landscape or hardy border, the hardy Phlox ranks supreme. They bloom from July on, at a time when other flowers in the border are comparatively scarce. A very wide range of colors is possible. During the past few years, some wonderful new varieties have been produced. These have larger panicles of flowers with much larger flowers, and present some new and very brilliant colors.

They may be planted any time in fall or early spring. The soil should be well prepared and made very rich for best results. Plant 12 to 15 inches apart and water thoroughly during periods of dry weather. The clumps ought to be divided and replanted in fresh soil at least once in three years.

The following varieties have been carefully selected and represent some of the best in cultivation.

HARDY ROSES

This year we are offering a few of the very best and most popular garden roses to our patrons. The list we offer has been very carefully selected and contains only those varieties which are hardy and free bloomers.

Roses are best planted in the Spring as soon as the ground is dry enough to work. The ground should be thoroughly and deeply prepared with a heavy application of well rotted manure, that from the cow stable being the best. A heavy, well drained loam soil suits them best. Set the plants at least two feet apart. If on their own roots, plant a little deeper than they stood in the nursery row, budded plants should be planted with the union of the bud and stock about two inches below the surface of the soil. Immediately after planting thin out to three or four shoots and cut these back to within four inches of the ground. During the growing season keep the surface soil loose with the hoe and water occasionally during extended droughts. A top dressing of bone meal at intervals during the Summer will be found very beneficial.

HARDY SHRUBS AND HEDGE PLANTS

During April and May we can supply strong, healthy, young plants of the popular varieties of ornamental and flowering shrubs. Let us quote on your requirements.

We will gladly quote special prices where plants are required in large quantity for extensive plantings.

CANNAS

These are among the most attractive bedding plants in cultivation. They have large attractive foliage varying in color from a clear deep green to a rich bronzy red. The modern varieties are not so tall as the older ones but surpass them in size of bloom and brilliancy of coloring.

The roots should be placed in a box of moist mos or sand two or three weeks before planting out and kept in a warm place to start the sprouts and new roots. They should be planted about three inches deep and eighteen inches apart, with the taller varieties in the background. They flourish in rich soil and should be given plenty of moisture, and frequently hoed during the growing season. When the foliage has been killed by frost, it may be cut off and the roots dug and stored in a warm dry place until the following spring. The clumps should then be divided before replanting.

The following varieties are large flowering and have excellent foliage. We consider them the best in cultivation. We will gladly suggest varieties and tell you the number of plants required for your beds.
